NOTES.

—The public schools will close on the 25th inst.
 —A large acreage of tobacco is being planted in the Manor.
 —Wheat and rye harvest is commencing, an unusually early date.
 —Mr. Knowlton, foreman of the Phoenix Iron Works, of Trenton, has taken up his residence in Morrisville.
 —Wilson's new drug store in Morrisville is doing a good business. Mr. J. G. Davis is retiring from his business.
 —The Bristol Library is indebted to Hon. Symington Phillips for 28 volumes of the Second Geological Survey of Pennsylvania.
 —The first black bass of the season was caught on Monday afternoon at the foot of the Delaware House property, by Fred Thornber.
 —The water-ly traffic is at its height. Dozens of bunches of them are gathered at the mill-pond every day and disposed of without much difficulty.
 —The fire alarm signals which have been adopted at the suggestion of the Fire Committee of Council are as follows: When a fire occurs a general alarm will be given by the ringing of the bell; afterwards, the bell will be rung to indicate in which ward the fire is; the first ward will be denoted by one stroke; the second ward, by two strokes, and the third ward by three strokes. If the conflagration is serious a second general alarm will be sounded after the ward is indicated.

—We understand that, commencing with next Monday, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will put on four extra trains each way between Bristol and Philadelphia. The fare will be somewhat reduced, but probably not so low as the present fare to Kensington. It is in contemplation to eventually make the depot at Kensington a freight depot and take all passengers to West Philadelphia and, when the elevated railroad is finished, to Fifteenth and Market streets.

—The sixth annual meeting of the Union Building Company was held on Monday evening. The report of the secretary shows that the dues and premiums for the year amount to $8,031.25; the loans to $4,890; total assets, $40,063.25; and balance in the treasury, $106.45. The shares of the last year are worth $90 per share, and the shares of the second series are worth $40.20 per share. The officers for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Jonathan Milnor; secretary, Samuel Swain; treasurer, Charles T. Ingham. Directors, Charles T. Ingham, Jonathan Milnor, Henry Mervin, Frank Rogers, Jonathan Lovett, John McDonnell, Jacob McElroy, William A. Worrell and William H. Hall.

—At the special meeting of our School Board, which, as announced in our last issue, was held last Thursday evening, the question stated that the object of the meeting was to determine whether the tax of five mills for building purposes should be re-considered. Mr. Wollard moved that the whole question of the tax rate be re-opened. The secretary said that he thought it was the understanding that the tax rate of $1.00 for school purposes should remain. Mr. Wollard's motion was not seconded, and Mr. Hudson moved that the tax rate for building purposes be reconsidered. Mr. Randall seconded the motion. After each member had defended his position upon the question, a vote was taken, and all the members voted in favor of the motion except Mr. Bailey, who refused to vote, saying he believed he voted as he should at the former meeting, and could not conscientiously antagonize the record there made.

The secretary wished it made public that the 25 shares which the School Board have in the Building Association is a sinking fund, which is to be used to pay off the debt upon the Washington street school-house. There was no further business to transact, and the meeting adjourned.

—On Tuesday evening our venerable townsman, Mr. J. Wilson Hall, had a genuine and most gratifying surprise. He has been obliged recently to retire from the Buckley St. Mission, because of the growing infirmities of age. The Men's Bible Class of that Mission, of which he has been the teacher since its organization, wishing to give him a token of their appreciation of his services, met at his house and presented him with an elegant copy of the Bible. By their request Mr. Shack made the presentation in an address in which he embodied some of the history of the Mission, and fitly spoke of the valuable services of Mr. Hall in bringing it to its present excellent condition, and especially of the faithful devotedness of the venerable man to the interests of his class. Mr. Hall responded with an address full of Christian fervor,unction and path, in which he told how thoroughly he was surprised and how tenderly he was touched by the kindness of his class, and how greatly he would prize the gift as coming from it, and because it was that book which he had so loved to study for more than fifty years, from which he had received so much light and strength in the pathway of life. Remarks were also made by Rev. Dr. Knox and Messrs. Zell and Spencer; and then the company knelt in prayer, led by Dr. Knox, in commending the venerable man, his household and the Mission to the continued favor of God, who had done so much for them all. It was an evening which will be remembered long by those whose happiness it was to be present.

—Washington Hall was decked with flowers and ferns on Tuesday morning, and presented a bright and beautiful picture when the young ladies composing Miss Merriam's school, arrayed in white dresses, emblematic of the freshness and purity of youth, filed in one by one and took their places in presence of the large number of the friends of the pupils and the school who had assembled to witness the exercises. The young ladies were lit up with smiles, as if in anticipation of a pleasant release from study, even while there were, doubtless, lingering regrets that the happy hours of the school term were so nearly ended. The floral decorations were of sufficient profusion to harmonize well with the surroundings, and were tastefully arranged. Upon the platform were President Cattell, Rev. Dr. Knox, Rev. Dr. Cunningham, Miss Merriam and her associates, Miss Peck and Miss Wells.

The exercises were opened by Rev. Dr. Cunningham, who offered up a brief prayer; this was followed by the Zingari Chorus, by the school. Three little misses, Annie B. Hoguet, Sylvia S. Heilings and Jennie W. Hood performed a piano trio, called "The Blacksmith," which was very pleasing; and Miss Emma A. Osmund, one of the graduates, read a well-written essay, under the suggestive title of "The Soul's Windows." "The Spinning Wheel," by Mendelssohn, was given upon the piano by Miss Mary A. Hood, after which the School Song, the beautiful chorus, "Gently Fall the Dews of Eve." Another of the graduates, Miss Fannie Lawrence read an interesting paper, entitled "Footprints," and Miss Annie S. Wright sang, "Maiden, Tell Me I Play." This closed the first part of the program.

The second part was begun with a vocal trio, "Speed Thee, Little Boat," by Miss Miriam D. Ome, Miss Ada B. Vauant, and Miss Rose H. Orlinton. It is a pretty piece, and was prettily sung. "Nature's Ministries" was the subject of a discriminating and appreciative study of nature, by Miss Fannie F. Baker; it was her graduating essay, and was read with much expression.

Hannie L. White and Alice L. Thomas then gave a selection upon the piano, and Miss Lizzie O. Hancock read a charmingly-written essay, the plan of which was admirably conceived and skillfully executed; it displayed evidences of unusual merit, and portions of it were surprisingly beautiful. The name chosen for the composition was a felicitous one, "The Bridges We Build." Miss Wells sang a vocal solo, rather difficult of execution, but which showed to advantage her conceded ability as a vocalist of no ordinary merit. Afterwards, by special request, she favored the audience with another selection, which was received with appreciation.

In a few words, and in a very happy manner, Rev. Dr. Knox then introduced President Cattell, of Lafayette College.

The address commenced by a reference to the prevailing but pernicious error that a young lady upon leaving school had "finished her education." The Doctor contended that the most valuable thing she had learned at school was how to learn more. When we speak of the educated classes, we mean those who have acquired knowledge and have developed their mental faculties; but that point is never reached where there is no more knowledge to acquire and no more development of the faculties; and therefore education, in its grand and comprehensive sense, is never finished. New subjects, new teachers, would meet those young graduates as they cross the threshold of life, and would ever meet them in the coming years, even down to old age. In the wide realms of knowledge they might add kingdom to kingdom, as their own possessions, but there would be more worlds yet to conquer.

He then dwelt upon the peculiar responsibilities of educated women, showing how powerful and far-reaching is their influence. It was not necessary that they should be ranked with the great historic characters—heroines like Joan of Arc. A silent but powerful influence had gone out from such institutions as Mount Holyoke, that had done more to make the world better and happier than all the influence from the noisy schools of so-called reformers. Among the fields of womanly activity which had been developed of late years, he spoke particularly of woman's work for foreign missions, and showed how it was the cultured women who gave direction and efficiency to the grand work. Within the last week a christian lady had given him some documents which had been prepared with a view of securing justice to the Indians of our country, and in the memorial to Congress which accompanied them, he recognized her scholarly pen. Though these women could not vote, they had the power to make the men vote what was honest and just.

It was a beautiful sight, he said, to look upon these young faces, turned so hopefully towards the pathway of life that faded away in the vision of the long years beyond. But there would come an hour when the forward look must be towards the far-off land where the endless paths commence. If in this frail house of their pilgrimage they had learned well the lesson of life, if they had loved the great Teacher and heeded his commands, if they had made all their scholarly acquisitions the basis of helpful lives to others, then would the King of that beautiful land speak to them words of welcome and approval that would thrill their hearts with joy through the unending ages; and this would be in this greeting something so wondrously like theirs, even from the divine lips! For to you whose lives have been helpful and beneficent, will he not say: "Inasmuch as ye have done it to the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

At the conclusion of the address, Rev. Dr. Knox presented the diplomas to the graduates, Misses Osmund, Lawrence, Baker and Hancock, seconding, in a few remarks, the advice given by Dr. Cattell. The Commencement Song was then sung, and Rev. W. H. Conrad dismissed the audience with the benediction.

The occasion was one of rare interest. The young ladies who graduated were the recipients of many congratulations, some of them taking the more substantial form of floral offerings. Everything passed off pleasantly and successfully, and it must have been extremely satisfactory to Miss Merriam and her assistants, as it was to the many friends of the school, to witness the happy results which crowned the earnest labors of the year.

Council Proceedings.

The regular stated meeting of Borough Council was held on Monday evening. All the members were present except Mr. Breisford. After the preliminary business was over the various committees reported. The Street Committee reported in regard to placing lamps on Spruce street, and recommended that one of the lamps already there be moved to a better location, and that one lamp additional be put in. The report was accepted.

The Finance Committee, through its Chairman, Mr. Scheide, stated that all the holders of the Borough bonds had signified their consent to the refunding scheme at a rate equal to 5 per cent.

The Fire Committee reported that after consultation with a committee of firemen, a system of fire-alarm signals had been adopted, and that the roof of the Council chamber had been properly painted.

The Ordinance Committee reported progress concerning the codification of the borough ordinances, and requested that they be empowered to invite the Clerk of Council to assist them. Their request was granted.

Mr. Wright, from the Committee on Public Property, called attention to the need of the town house being repaired, and thought the matter should receive attention. On motion of Mr. Scheide the proper committee was instructed to have the repairs made. The recommendation of the Street Committee in regard to putting lamps on Spruce street was then brought up and adopted.

The following bills were passed:
 Penna. Globe Gas Light Co., $28.00
 C. Saxton, 1.00
 J. K. Brown, 1.00
 C. G. Brown, 1.00
 S. Mott, 1.00

A proposition from the Penna. Globe Gas Light Co. was presented, offering to alter, light and clean the street lamps, and keep them burning twenty nights in each month, from dusk until 1 o'clock A. M., for $1150 per year, if a contract is made for three years, or $1200 for one year; and if kept burning all night, $1500. The matter was referred to the Street Committee.

A petition calling attention to Adam Hollow creek was referred to the Sanitary Committee. The Clerk reported that the amount of the tax duplicate was $3,210.09, but that it would be increased to about $3,250; and that there were 105 dogs assessed.

The Borough Treasurer offered his bond, which upon motion was accepted.

Mr. Scheide moved that the treasurer be instructed to have the Borough bond holders accept a lower rate of interest, and make a statement of the fact upon the back of the bonds. Agreed to.

The Treasurer was also instructed to give public notice that the sewer tax would be due by July 1st, and that he would be ready at that time to receive it.

Mr. Dugberry called attention to the bad condition of a certain portion of Buckley street, which needed to be curbed. The Street Committee were ordered to attend to the matter.

One of the chairs furnished for the use of reporters hoped to induce Council to have its case attended to; but, in the confusion of a little debate upon sewers, its voice was not heard. The matter was, therefore, postponed until the next meeting, and Council adjourned.

The census enumerators have finished their canvass of the town, and although they are debarred from making public, at present, a full report of their work, the general result as far as the extent of our population is concerned is as follows: first ward, 1,662; second ward, 1,539; third ward, 2,070. This makes a total of 5,271. It was estimated that our population would reach 6,000, or over, but like many other prophecies this failed to prove true, however, it was not very far out of the way. The population at the last census was 3,269. We have, therefore, gained 2,002 in ten years, or 1,264 short of doubling the population. This is a very gratifying showing, but if the right policy is pursued by the borough, in encouraging improvements and manufacturing, there is no reason why the population should not be doubled in the ensuing decade. As it is, the increase in Bristol is larger than any other town in the county, and our borough is still the metropolis by a large majority, and likely to continue so.

A Third Ward Home.

Yesterday the building committee of the School Board made the first move toward the erection of a new school house in the third ward, by the purchase of a lot 200 ft. long on new Bath street, immediately beyond the property of Willwood Rue. The price agreed upon was $1500. This morning a special meeting of the School Board was held at the office of H. F. Gilkeson, where the second step was taken. All the members were present except Mr. Wollard. Mr. Gilkeson was retained as counsel, to see that the title upon the building lot is clear, and to advise them in regard to their power to effect a loan to raise funds to go to work at once in building a school house. Mr. Gilkeson read the act of assembly relating to the subject, and stated that the only plan that could be adopted would be to apply to court for the authority to make a loan. The School Board, therefore, after considerable discussion, decided to do this, and instructed Mr. Gilkeson to take the matter in charge. Application will therefore be made at the August term of court asking that the School Board be permitted to borrow a sum of money not exceeding $10,000, for a period not longer than ten years, for the purpose of building a new school house. Previous to the application being made, notice of the intention to do so will have to be advertised in the papers. As there will not be any objection to the plan proposed, it may be considered a settled thing that the court will grant the application, and the third ward will have its much-talked-of and greatly needed school structure. It is the wish of the Board to commence operations as soon as possible, and it is confidently expected that the building can be finished by the first of January. The plan of the building has not yet been decided upon, but the sentiment of the directors seems to be in favor of a building with eight rooms. The School Board is to be congratulated upon the prospects of successfully carrying out an object so desirable, even if the mode chosen is not so economical as the one at first proposed. Their action will no doubt meet with public approval, and when the new building shall be dedicated, in January, nobody will inquire whether the money it cost was obtained by a building tax, or otherwise. All's well that ends well.

—John Julius and his wife, two of our colored population, were tried before Squire Bailey on Tuesday for drunkenness and disorderly behavior. They were fined two dollars and costs. They could not raise the money, and were in great distress of mind until the constable proposed that they should work out their fine by cleaning the town house. They consented, and as a result they are free, and the town house is clean and purified by white-wash.

I will open to-day a bale of desirable lawns, in neat figures and side bands, at 41 cents a yard; also, a large assortment of Fluo White Victoria Lawns, at 12 1/2, 15, 18, 20, 22, 25, 28 cts. a yard. At J. Wesley Wright's, Mill St., Bristol, Pa.

A lot of Brown Liven Suits at very low prices, at J. Wesley Wright's, Bristol, Pa.

W. A. Giron, who has had many years' experience in putting on roofing material of various kinds, now has what he considers the very best roof paint in the market. It is highly recommended by parties elsewhere who have used it on tin, iron and shingle roofs, and it is believed to be the cheapest and best in use. It is called the Star Composition Roof Paint, and is fully warranted for five years.

A NEW DEPARTURE!

BEST PLOW IN THE WORLD!

THE SYRACUSE CHILLED PLOW CO.,
 of Syracuse, N. Y.

Now putting on the market a Plow that is as good as any Plow heretofore made as the Plows of the past few years have been superior to those made half a century ago.

It combines all the excellencies of any Plow in use.

It overcomes all the objections made to any other Plow.

In addition it embraces several new features of the greatest value, for which we have obtained exclusive Patents.

Its Beam, Clevis, Jointer Standard and Wheel Standard will be STEEL, and its mold board will be a composition of steel and iron chilled under a process for which we have also obtained an exclusive Patent. It will be called

THE SYRACUSE CHILLED STEEL PLOW

Its weight will be eighteen pounds less than our present styles.

A first-class Steel Plow, made in the ordinary way, full rigged, weighs from twenty-two to twenty-four pounds. Our new Plows weigh from sixteen to nineteen pounds.

The price of our new Plow will be but Seventeen Dollars, and it will be the cheapest Plow in the market.

Its mold board will outwear three of the very best kinds of the ordinary steel mold boards.

It will scour in soils where all steel plows and all other plows have hitherto proved a failure.

With this Plow will be introduced a corrugated Plow Point and Jointer Point, on which we have also obtained a Patent, and which is also a great improvement, both as regards strength and wear.

The Jointer can be shifted so as to take more or less land, and also more or less pitch, and it can always be kept on a line with the Plow.

The wheel will run under the beam on one side of it as desired, and always keep in line. The beam is adjustable for spring or Fall Plowing, and also for two or three horses.

The handles can be adjusted to accommodate a man or boy, on the same Plow. It is a perfect Plow.

Wooden beams are going out of use because they shrink, swell and warp, and never run two seasons alike.

Iron beams are too heavy.

Malleable beams become demoralized and bend, which is much worse than the wooden beam.

A steel beam is the necessity of the day. It is three times as strong and very much lighter than any other style.

It should also be the cheapest.

Persons therefore who are not willing to act as agents on the principle that a humble existence is better than a slow killing, need not apply for an agency.

No Plows on commission. All sales absolute.

This is the only Steel Chilled Plow in the world.

Steel costs several times more than iron. But this Plow, full rigged, by giving small discounts can be sold for Seventeen Dollars. Compare this price with that of any Iron Plow ever made.

It is cheaper than any other Plow now made would be at five dollars and a half.

Where there are no agents we will, on receipt of Seventeen Dollars, send a Plow to any Railroad station in the State and pay the freight.

Address,
